Ψ Risks and benefits:

Therapy has both benefits and risks. Risks may include experiencing uncomfortable feelings such as sadness, guilt, anxiety, anger, frustration etc. because the process of therapy involves discussing unpleasant aspects of your life. However, therapy has been shown to have benefits, these include personal awareness, insight for managing stress and resolutions to specific problems. Therapy requires active effort on your part. By signing this document, you provide consent to voluntarily undergo psychotherapy.

Ψ Couple therapy:

Partners are seen individually first and then seen for joint, communication training. Some partners need more time in individual therapy before moving to joint therapy (this is at the therapist’s discretion as partners need to be ready for communication training). Once joint sessions have commenced, individual therapy sessions may take place from time to time in between joint sessions, for the benefit of couple therapy, but not for own individual struggles (clients will need to be referred in these instances). Openness and transparency of all appointments are paramount – therefore your partner should be informed of all your sessions attended. Jenna Kilian is not able to see partners individually for individual therapy once couple therapy has been terminated / abandoned / completed – partners will be referred to other psychologist’s instead (unless a consent form is signed from both partners stating that couple therapy has ended and both partners are aware and agree for one partner to be seen for individual therapy thereafter and the other partner is aware that they will not be able to return to Jenna Kilian for individual therapy going forward.

Ψ Limits of confidentiality:

Records relating to your therapy are kept locked and are not available to anyone besides myself. Information relating to your appointments, medical aid and for billing purposes etc. are available to my receptionist and practice managers. The law places certain limits on confidentiality and they include the following, when: i) The client is a danger to themselves or others; ii) there is suspicion of the abuse of a child, adult or vulnerable person; iii) ordered by the court. More specifically should you be a risk to yourself or others and admission is refused at a psychiatric facility, the person responsible for the account, your partner, the authorities or your next of kin will automatically be informed of this risk. Relevant information or feedback to your GP, Psychiatrist or other medical specialist or referring party will be given to maximise treatment. Be aware that all sick notes etc. require medical diagnostic information and this may compromise your confidentiality. Unidentifiable clinical information about yourself may be used for retrospective research record review, professional consultation and supervision purposes. The practice cell phone is managed by my receptionist and not myself – please keep this in mind in terms of information shared via calls, WhatsApps, smses etc regarding your confidentiality. Bumping into each other outside the practice may take place, I will follow your lead as to how you would like to respond in this situation (i.e. greet or avoid one another). Regarding couple therapy, when you are seen individually, it is encouraged for you to ONLY share information with the therapist that you are open for your partner to hear or be informed of at a later stage – openness and transparency is crucial in couple therapy – you therefore consent that all information shared with Jenna Kilian can be shared or discussed with your partner or in joint sessions going forward.

Ψ Appointments:

Appointments are generally 50-55 min in duration. This practice sends out courtesy reminders via SMS, WhatsApp or Email, however, it remains the sole responsibility of the client to arrive at their session on time. Late arrival at your appointment will decrease the length of your session and you are still charged for the full session fee. Appointments not kept or cancelled with less than 24hrs are discouraged as it does not give the practice enough time to contact other clients on my waiting list to fill your appointment slot. The number of sessions you will need will be dependent on the psychologist’s discretion, availability of time as well as your effort placed into the process. You are welcome to terminate therapy at any point. No legal, forensic, employment, academic etc. reports, notes, letters etc. will be written for any reasons as sessions are only therapeutic and not forensic/ psycho-legal / medico-legal, assessment etc. in nature.

Ψ Fees and non-payment of fees:

- Ψ This practice charges medical aid rates which are different for each medical aid. These rates may be given to you on your request. The main member/client remains at all times responsible for payment of accounts even if insured with a medical aid. It is the client's responsibility to ensure that they have adequate funds available. Some medical aids require a doctor's referral letter - the onus is on the client to obtain this when necessary. Diagnostic information (ICD-10) information has to be provided to medical aids for claims to be processed - failure to do so leads to claims being rejected. Please note that submitting diagnostic information may compromise confidentiality - please advise this practice should you not want the diagnostic code disclosed. By signing this agreement you agree that I may provide relevant information to your medical aid.
- Ψ You are welcome to pay privately as well at a rate of R850 for each session. The amount needs to be paid in cash, card, Zapper or via EFT prior to or on the day of each session. The practice will not run any accounts. Diagnostic information (ICD-10) information will be added to your statement - please advise this practice should you not want the diagnostic code disclosed. By signing this agreement you agree that I may make use of an ICD-10 code.
- Ψ Accounts overdue by 30+ days will be handed over to an attorney or credit bureau for collection without further notice being given. The main member/client is liable for all costs incurred.

Ψ Contacting me:

Kindly contact my office 073 950 3638 for all appointments and queries. In the event of an emergency (life-threatening) you may request for me to contact you during office hours, however, if I am unavailable or you require assistance after hours, the client agrees to go to the nearest hospital, contact their GP or book an emergency consultation for the following day. Please avoid telephone consultations, emails, WhatsApp or SMS messages related to therapy - this may compromise your confidentiality and is not optimal for therapy. You will be billed in this regard for telephonic consultations/assistance and for the perusal of emails/documents as per the duration thereof. Due to the nature of my work I am unable to accept any current/past client invitations on all social media platforms or consult with any person I am in contact with on a personal level or consult with you if I am already seeing your family member / close relation (please declare, if you are aware this is the case, at your initial session). No consulting will be available on Saturdays (unless booked), Sundays, public holidays and/or after hours (before 08:00 or after 16:00).
